Team Dinner

On Monday, November 21, the girls' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams went into Lewistown for their annual "end-of-season" dinner. Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. Flint, Judy Brooks, Diane Philp, Manager, Tracy Hassler, and all the girls on the varsity and junior varsity teams went to the Mercantile and everyone got to order their favorite entree. After dinner, the team went to the civic center to watch the second half of the challenge game between Moore and Grass Range.

Junior Play

On January 13th and 14 the Junior Class will be putting on three one-act plays. There will be a Friday afternoon showing and another showing at 7:30 Saturday night. The plays are one mystery-- The Mystery of the Locked Room and two comedies-- Shock of His Life and Sure as You're Born. The following article is a short summary of each play.

Play Previews

"The Mystery of the Locked Room" is a thrilling mystery about the Winthrop family. Mr. Winthrop becomes sole heir of a large, ghostly family mansion. The family moves into the mansion only to find mysterious relatives, secret rooms, and unexplainable noises. This play is guaranteed to keep you on the edge of your chair.

"Shock of His Life" and "Sure As You're Born" are both comedies dealing with the Maxwell family. In "Shock of His Life", Mr. Maxwell, played by Bryan Bawden, somehow comes to the conclusion that he is dying. Of course there has been a misunderstanding largely due to the incompetence of the teenage son, Wilbur, played by King Hickey. In "Sure As You're Born", Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, played by King Hickey and Camille LaTray, wish they had a girl instead of their mischievous son, Wilbur. Betty Lou Maxwell (Anita Stulc) and Connie Maxwell, (Kevin Econom) add to the hilarious antics that go on in the Maxwell home.
