My editorial is about Cocaine and Crack.

The use of cocaine in America these days has increased drastically. Cocaine use has increased 600% between 1976 and 1981. 4 million Americans use cocaine on a regular basis and 5000 Americans try cocaine for the first time. Cocaine related deaths have increased 324% since 1980.

I hope that by educating the public concerning the effects on cocaine, we can slow down the rate at which this drug is sweeping across the country.

HIGH SCHOOL WEEK

On the morning on April 23, four Winifred High School students left for Bozeman, Montana and the 1987 MSU High School Week. Those attending were John Hruska, Scott Rogers, Susie Bolstad, and Stan Leonard. Also joining the Winifred contingent were Mr. Cantu and Casey Rindal from Roy.

They experienced a brief layover at Hobson, so the travelers were able to practice being Michael Jordan, Dominique and the Doctor. Once on the road again they made good time until Big Timber where they had to stop for various reasons which will not be discussed at this time.

Next stop was Bozeman, where they ate lunch and then signed in. During the afternoon the students visited various parts of the campus. Stan and Scott got to rapell off a building with the help of the Army ROTC. After this they checked into their rooms, changed into gym clothes and went to check out the P.E. complex. They were able to round up a pick up game where they totally outclassed a group of college players. Using their superior quickness and physical condition, this group of young men totally demolished a much bigger ball team.

The actual High School Week activities started with the kickoff session that evening. I can't remember what happened here, so it must not have been important. After this, they were divided into groups and taken on tours of the various departments which they were interested in. By this time, it was getting late and was time for bed.

Friday morning, the 24 of April, they woke up at 6:30, ate breakfast, and headed for the Field House to take the scholarship test. After four grueling hours, 900 students exploded through the doors of Worthington Arena with a look of space on their face.

Time to eat lunch and watch sun bathers through binoculars and then back to your groups again. At this time, college life was discussed and the students were given their shades for the dance. They then sat in on simulated lecture. There was then free-time until the Awards Banquet that night. The dance was after this and then it was, again, time for bed.

The students had to get up early the next morning to go to Denton where several of them were competing in track meet. This was a good learning experience as well as a good time. The majority of the student attending high school week can't wait for college.
