

Poly Crusaders Keep League Record Clean

League-leading Crusaders of the Billings Poly ran true to form to defeat the Yellowjackets of the E.M.S.N.S. with a 48-31 score in a conference basketball game here Tuesday night.

The normal school team made the first count when Marcus scored from the right corner, but the Crusaders came back to take a lead which they never lost.

Late in the first heat the Yellowjackets climbed within five points of the Poly and the half-time score stood 19-14. During the first few minutes of play in the second half, the Yellowjackets brought the score to 21-18, but the Poly began hitting the hoop and pulled away to a commanding lead.

Wilson paced the Poly scorers with 16 points, closely followed by Bergen with 15. Normal's high-point men were Stark with 12 and Babcock with 8.

The victory brought the Crusaders' conference wins to eight straight. They held a previous 48-27 win over the Jackets in a game on the Poly floor January 10.

EDITORIALS RECEIVE NOTICE

Attesting to the fact that the Rimrock Echo editorials are receiving notice is a letter from Laurence G. Goebel, associate editor of the "Slope Teacher" at the Dickinson State Teachers' college at Dickinson, N. D. Mr. Goebel made comment on the editorial appearing in the December 9 "Echo," entitled "A Modern Girl Wonders," written by Mrs. Ruth Miller, a December graduate.

In her editorial Mrs. Miller contended that modern girls were not receiving the courtesies accorded her mother by the gentlemen of this period in comparison to "when pa was courtin' ma." Mr. Goebel feels that her condemnation was biased in that "too many women of today fail to display any expectation of the niceties the gentlemen might accord them."

Appearing in the "College Exchange" section of the January 13 issue of the "Nomoco" of the Northern Montana college at Havre are two editorials from the Echo. They were "Three Types of Teachers" by Ernestine Hanley and "Quiet Please," an editorial on the noise in the library, written by Pearl Baird.

Floyd and Chuck are scoutmasters of troops in Gardiner and Jordan respectively, and John has applied for permission to direct lone scout work in Rothiemay, as there are not enough boys to form a troop.

The troops of Beeler and Holmes will be under the supervision of the local council, but John Lamers' activities at Rothiemay will be through the boy scout offices at Great Falls.

Dr. McMullen is president of the local council.

Normal school girls will also have an opportunity to learn something of girl scout work in a course offered with the cooperation of local girl scout officials.
