Recent Storm Damages in City

Robert Townsend, chief of police, stated that the police were not taking seriously the "no parking" violations. The police had been busy on Monday and Thursday nights, and the parking enforcement officers were in the police car during the day. For the first two days, there had been several reports of cars being towed. On Friday, the following reports had been filed:

- On 5th Street, a car was reported stolen.
- On 6th Street, a car was reported broken into.
- On 7th Street, a car was reported missing.

The police report that no parking violations were being enforced on Friday evening, July 6th.

Photograph of Damage

A recent storm that passed through the city caused significant damage to buildings and property. The storm caused water and glass damage, all the windows and siding on the west side of the building were damaged. The storm also caused damage to the roof of the building.

SOUNDING OFF

By MARGARET LATHROP

Tampa Times

In any number of ads this week, the City of St. Petersburg will be encouraging residents to "slow down, drive safe." The ads are part of an ongoing campaign to promote safe driving.

The City of St. Petersburg has also increased the number of traffic cameras in the city. The cameras are part of an effort to reduce traffic fatalities and improve pedestrian safety.

Hail Knocks Out Phone Service

A storm that passed through the area caused damage to power lines, knocking out phone service for many residents. The storm also caused damage to buildings and property.

Fastnet launches final legal action in Fallon case

Fastnet, the company that owns the Fallon landfill, has launched its final legal action against the Fallon city council. The company is seeking damages for alleged negligence and breach of contract.

Children Hurt in Accident

A car, driven by a 14-year-old boy, collided with a motorcycle, injuring the motorcycle rider. The boy was cited for failure to yield.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY

The President has declared a national emergency in the event of a drought. The declaration allows for federal assistance to states and local governments affected by the drought.

IN THE NEWS

The new root of the Ball Ezra tree, showing hall damage. The root is large, the old block on East Montana Avenue took the brunt of the storm according to the insurance adjuster. The root, with a city guarantee of equal for half, had only been a root since a month ago. The tree is in the front yard of the residence, and the same type of tree has stand well in hall trees burning. The house suffered glass and glass damage, all the windows and doors were destroyed. Their insurance and only insurance was the house.