Jones-Burton Wedding

A wedding of much interest took place on Thursday, May 14, at Spring Hill ranch, five miles north of Bynum, when Mr. J. Reid Jones and Miss Minerva I. Burton were united in marriage at 11 a. m. Miss Wilma Jones, sister of the groom, played the wedding march.

The wedding party entered from the east room and proceeded to the center of the large living room where the bay window had been transformed into a bower. Here under a canopy of smilax and flowers the impressive double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. White, pastor of the First M. E. church of Great Falls. Miss Ethel I. Reid acted as bride's maid and Mr. Kyle Jones, brother of the groom, as best man. Little Rosemary Feland carried the rings in a large white rose.

Miss Burton made a rare picture of delicate beauty in her gown of pale pink chiffon and crepe, caught up with tiny pink rose buds. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Reid wore pale blue charmense, trimmed with shadow lace.

Miss Burton is well-known throughout this section. For the past three years she has taught school and homesteaded near Bynum. Her unusually sweet and cheerful disposition has won for her a large number of friends. She is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burton, of Delhi, Iowa.

Mr. Jones is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jones, pioneer ranchers of Teton county. He is running a large ranch, and it is here the young couple will make their home, after a short wedding trip to the west.

A beautifully appointed dinner was served at the close of the ceremony. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. D. Feland, Mr. and Mrs. C. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. White, Mr. Homer Anderson, Miss Mary Reid, Messrs. Leslie and Harold Anderson and Mr. Frank Hodges.

Cattle Stealing Case

The preliminary hearing in the case of the state vs. Lorenzo White, who is charged with stealing two head of cattle belonging to a party by the name of Horn, who lives on the Indian reservation, and disposing of the stock. The state's case was presented by County Attorney Doyle and Attorney Phillips represented the defendant. The state's witnesses testified that White stole the cattle and sold them to Louis Morgan at this place and the hides were located near Morgan's slaughter house; also the horns and hoofs of the animals were located near that place. Louis Morgan was out of town and his brother who was called to the stand produced a record book which showed that two head of cattle had been purchased from the defendant, but the brands did not conform with the ones on the cattle that it is alleged were stolen. When the hides were located the brands had been cut out. Only one side of the case was heard as the defense did not put on a witness. Justice Smith found the evidence sufficient to hold the defendant to district court for trial and bond was fixed at $1,000, which up to this time has not been furnished. The evidence presented at the hearing was not sufficient to warrant a conviction. When the case comes to trial, it is understood that the state will present very damaging evidence. It is expected the case will be of considerable importance when tried in the district court.—The Valerian.

The Knocker's Prayer

Lord please don't let this town grow. I've lived here for thirty years and during that time I've fought all public improvements; I've knocked everything and everybody; no firm or individual has established a business without my doing all I could to put them out of business; I've used every underhand method known to the knocking fraternity to injure their business; I've lied about them, and would have stolen from them if I had the courage; I have done all I could to keep them from growing; never have I spoken a word for it, instead I have knocked it hard and often.

It pains me, O Lord, to see that in spite of my knocking this town is beginning to grow. Some day I fear I will be called upon to put down sidewalks in front of my property, and who knows but that I may have to help keep up the streets that run by my premises. This Lord would be more than I could bear. It would cost me money, and I could not afford to pay out money, though all I have was made right in this town.

Then, too, more people might come if the town begins to grow, which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I, ask, therefore, to keep this town at a standstill, that I may continue to be the chief knocker. Amen!

Money Stays Away

The money that goes into Canadian grain and potatoes, Mexican cattle, Argentine beef, pork and corn, Australian wool and mutton, New Zealand butter and cheese, Chinese and Siberian eggs—all this money, we say goes out of the hands of the American farmer and into the hands of the farmers of these other countries. The money goes away and it goes away to stay. Were it to remain at home it would go into better homes and barns, better and more agricultural implements, more pianos and automobiles, better roads and schools. And because of this it would mean more work for men in the factories, who in turn would consume more of the products of the farm. A dollar shipped out of the country that might remain here, with reasonable foresight, is an unnecessary break in the endless chain of prosperity that runs from the farm to the factory, from the factory to office and store, and thence back again to the farm.—Muncie (Ind.) State Journal.

New Train Schedule

Superintendent Kelsey of the Great Northern railway was in Choteau the first of the week and announced a new schedule for the train on the Power-Choteau-Bynum line, effective June 1st. Under the new arrangement the train leaves Bynum daily except Sunday, at 6.30 a. m., arriving at Choteau at 7.30. Power at 9.15 and goes through to Great Falls, at which place it arrives at 10.40. Returning the train leaves Great Falls at 2.00 p. m., arriving at Power at 3.00. Leaves Power at 3.30, arriving at Choteau at 6.15 and Bynum at 7.15. Between Great Falls and Power the train will be operated as a passenger train, consisting of two coaches and an express car, but on the branch it will be run as a mixed freight and passenger train as at present. In some respects this schedule is an improvement over the one now in force, but it is rather inconvenient to have our mail arrive at such a late hour in the afternoon.

All persons who have been hauling gravel from, or dumping rubbish upon, the Hirshberg Bros.' property southeast of town are hereby notified to discontinue same.
