THE CHOTEAU ACANTHA

Men in Uniform

JAMES L. SCOTT
FREDERICK A. WILKE
SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Sgt. Leonard James L. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Wilke, all of Choteau, are undergoing nine weeks of basic training in the Marine training center here.

They are receiving instruction in naval customs, mechanics and repair, physical fitness, seamanship, damage control, first aid, swimming and survival, small-boat drills and mercy duty.

A program of physical fitness, medical service and camp drill keeps the recruits mentally and physically alert during training.

Their navy classification test will determine whether they will be assigned to a school or shop after graduation.

ROY R. HANSBERRY
KUTZLA—Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Hansberry, of Woodford, has been promoted to second class in the U. S. Air Force.

Airman Hansberry is a jet aircraft mechanic at Glasgow Air Force Base. He is a member of the 341st Air Control Squadron which maintains a posture of intercontinental missiles and jet bombers.

The airman, a graduate of Powell High School, is married to the former Ms. Elizabeth Good, Fairchild Air Force Base.

Information Booth

Business Increases

The Montana Highway Department information booth, which doubled in business this past summer, is now in operation at the booth located in the Information Building.

Individuals from out of state, California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Mexico and Hawaii are using the guest book.

The Montana Highway Department information booth distributed highway maps, highway pamphlets, weather maps, and traffic condition reports.

In the Information Building, visitors can obtain state maps, Montana Travel Book, Fish and Wildlife Information Book, State Parks handbook; Montana Fish and Wildlife Service, and Montana State Forestry Service pamphlets.
