

GRAINS OF GOLD.

The love of money is the root of all evil. --Paul.

Be not simply good; be good for something. --Thoreau.

The best hearts are ever the bravest. --Laurence Sterne.

It is well to think well; it is divine to act well. --Horace Mann.

The torture of a bad conscience is the hell of a living soul. --Calvin.

A mob is a monster with heads enough. But no heart and little brains.

Night brings out stars, as sorrow shows us truths. P. J. Bailey

A prince who falleth out with laws breaketh with his best friends. --Saville.

A single grateful thought toward heaven is a most effective prayer. --Lessing.

Some are unwisely liberal, and more delight to give presents than to pay debts.

The gem cannot be polished without friction, nor the man perfected without trials.

The Christian ministry is the worst of all trades but the best of all professions. --I. Newton.

He who has not a good memory should never take upon him the trade of lying. --Montaigne.

The true danger is when liberty is nibbled away for expedients and by parts. --Burke.

Moderation is the silken string running through the pearl chains of all virtues. --Fuller.

Modesty is to merit as shades to figures in a picture, giving it strength and beauty. --Bruyere.

The recent Drydenforih rain making experiment in Texas is pronounced as one of the most veritable humbugs and absurd waste of public money of which it is possible to conceive. It is said that the trial party was shrewd enough not to begin operations before the season when, from time immemorial, rain has come down plenty and often in that region.

Notice to Stockmen--Estrays.

The publisher of THE MONTANIAN hereby agrees to publish notices of estrayed horses free of charge: Provided, however, that when any stock is recovered by reason of such publication the party recovering said stock so published shall pay to the publisher of this paper $3 for every animal so recovered. Parties reporting estrays are requested to hand in full description with all other information which might enable the owners to make their identification of property satisfactory to all concerned. All information, other than brands, will be withheld from publication. In cases where persons losing stock, advertise, rewards offered should be deposited; the party claiming the same should apply with the animals in his possession, either here or to the owner for the same when, if satisfactory and the horses are turned over, the money deposited as a reward will be paid to the claimant on order of the owner.

For the above purposes we will open a Free Estray column in this paper. All persons making use of the same must comply with the above rules.
