

Beavers Split Openers with Livingston and Twin Bridges

Coach Max Nield's Dillon Beavers inaugurated their 1962-63 hoop season here with a weekend split, losing Friday to Livingston 58-33 in the opener and coming back Saturday to clobber Twin Bridges 56-37.

The local five continue a non-league schedule this weekend, traveling to Livingston for a Friday night return encounter with the Rangers and hosting Class AA Butte Public in the WMCE gym on Saturday.

Livingston's Class A club put on a fabulous shooting show, hitting over 70 per cent of their field attempts, as they clipped the Beavers here Friday before a large opening night turnout.

Closed Quarter

Fans were treated to a brilliantly played first quarter in which the score was tied five times. The Ranger backcourt duo of Burns and Pintar opened up a deadly barrage in the second stanza to give the visitors a 27-18 lead at intermission.

Beaver shooters were able to net only seven of 45 field shots in the second half against a rugged Ranger zone defense while Livingston continued their phenomenal outside shooting to roll up the one-sided count.

Junior center Jim Handl tallied 16 points to lead the winners and was ably assisted by Burns and Pintar with 15 and 13. Junior forward Jon Womack provided Dillon's lone bright spot with steady floor play and an 11-point scoring output.

Ground Falcons

The Beavers bounced back Saturday to spoil Twin Bridges season's debut, 56-37, as the close-checking Dillon defense limited the Madison County Class C club to just seven field goals.

With Ed Ferris and the Womack brothers hitting from all angles, Dillon moved to a 12-7 quarter lead and then added 10 quick points while shutting out the Falcons in the opening four minutes of the second stanza.

Twin Bridges failed to connect from the field during the entire second quarter but converted 9 free throws to trail 28-16 at half-time.

Nield alternated his 12-man varsity squad throughout the second half with ten players hitting the scoring column. Ferris was high with 14; Jim Womack had 11, Jon 9 and Jerry Donovan turned in a strong board performance while adding 7.

Dennis Naranche had a big night at the foul line, dropping nine to go with a pair of fielders for 13 points.

Reserves Also Split

Coach Russ Fisk's Jayvees also split the weekend bill, losing a tight 36-34 decision to Livingston before coming on to take the Bridgers 36-31.

Boulder Wins Whitehall Tourney

Boulder took top honors in the Whitehall Invitational Tourney with a 42-40 thriller over Sheridan in Saturday's championship final.

Whitehall edged Ennis, 42-41, for consolation laurels.

In the Friday openers, Dan Marsh netted 28 points as Sheridan topped Whitehall, 62-43, and Boulder got balanced scoring to subdue Ennis, 45-32.

Ideal Cement Co. Completes New Storage Silos

Ideal Cement Company's new storage silos have reached their full height and been "topped out." According to Luther Runyon, Ideal's Construction Engineer in charge of the project, construction of these silos and new bulk loading facilities is on schedule. Now more than 1/2 complete, the facilities will be in operation before the 1963 shipping season begins.

The storage facilities, which will increase the plant's storage capacity by 120,000 barrels, will consist of six 36 ft. diameter by 170 ft. high concrete silos, four pocket bins and two interstice bins. When complete, the total storage capacity in Montana will be almost 300,000 barrels.

In addition to increased storage capacity the company has included high-speed bulk truck and rail loading facilities capable of loading bulk cement trucks or rail cars at the rate of 1,500 barrels per hour. A 145-barrel bulk cement truck, for instance, can be fully loaded in about seven minutes.

This latest improvement at Trident is but one of a series of improvements that the company has been making to assure their Montana customers of ample supplies of quality portland cements.

Only last year a new ball mill was installed which increased the finish grinding capacity of the plant by almost 50 percent.

V. H. Szidon, Plant Manager at Ideal's Trident plant said, "It has always been Ideal's policy to keep abreast of the latest developments in the manufacture of cement. Our plant at Trident is no exception. We have kept our production above the needs of our Montana customers through a continuing modernization and expansion program." This policy, Szidon said, "is one of the reasons that Ideal has grown to be the No. 1 producer of portland cement in the U. S."

TURKEY ORIGIN

A Mexican turkey with a Spanish accent may have been the ancestor of some of the birds on the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving menu. World Book Encyclopedia explains that Spaniards brought Mexican turkeys to Europe in the early 1500's and later they reached England. The Pilgrims are reported to have brought several to America in 1620.

Bulldogs Host Hot-Shooting Malstrom AFB Tuesday Night

Hot-shooting Malstrom Air Force Base, led by former Wisconsin All-American Larry Reed, display their wares here Tuesday night when they meet Western Montana's Bulldogs in the college gym. A preliminary between jay-vee squads of the two opposing clubs gets under way at 7 p.m., with the varsity fives following at about 8:30.

Coach Bill Straugh's Bulldogs, making their season's second appearance, have been undergoing heavy drills to iron out offensive flaws which were evident in the team's 74-57 loss to Carroll College last week.

"We made a lot of mistakes against the Saints," Straugh noted, "but this is a young club and we need experience to get squared away. We've got a capable squad here and local fans will see some fine future play."

"Fine Shooting Five"

Malstrom Coach Clay Lonie, a product of Purdue University, describes his club as "not big but an exceptionally fine shooting outfit."

Reed is the tallest man at 6'4" and has able support from Tom Vitito, formerly of Florida Southern; Gary Ichinose, John Brooks, Enoch Wilborn and Harold Albritton. Most are veterans of last year's squad which dropped a 102-78 decision to the Dillon five.

This season the AFB five has lost only one of six.

Tuesday's game will mark the final home appearance of the Bulldogs for almost a month. The team travels to Salt Lake City to meet Westminster January 4-5 and then swings west on a four-game tour of Washington during which they play Seattle Pacific, St. Martin's, and Western Washington twice.

The Bulldogs resume their home slate on December 21 when they host Weber College of Ogden, Utah.
