Missionary Will Be Speaker at Baptist Church

A medical missionary who has spent ten years working with leprosy patients in north-central India will be guest speaker at the evening service of the First Baptist church Sunday and will show slides of her work during the New Year's Eve program the following night.

The missionary, Miss Elizabeth Walton, is partially supported by the church and has visited here during previous furloughs which come at five year intervals. She has been a missionary to India since 1946. In 1952 she was stationed at the leprosy home at Kothara, India, sponsored by the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission society.

During her first year at the home she established an out-patient clinic for 75 patients at Chandur Bazar, a small town a few miles from Kothara. Over the years this clinic has grown until 500 to 750 patients receive weekly medical treatment there.

Two other similar clinics supervised by Miss Walton give her a total of nearly 2000 regular patients to care for with the help of Indian nationals that she has trained. Miss Walton and Indian pastors and evangelists present the Christian message of salvation to the patients as they receive their medical care.

Miss Walton will be introduced during the Sunday School hour which begins at 9:45 a.m., Sunday and at the morning worship service which begins at 11. At the 7:30 p.m. service, she will be given time to describe her work and give a Bible challenge to missionary activity. During the New Year's Eve program which begins with a pancake supper at 8 p.m., Miss Walton is scheduled to show slides of the clinics and the home at 9:45 p.m. Visitors are welcome to all services.

Reassignment of Voters Nearing Completion Here

The reassignment of voters to continue to vote at Precinct 13 (High School).
Dillon's five precinct polling places, a project designed to equalize the voting load at each poll, was reported nearing completion this week following adoption by Beaverhead county commissioners at their December meeting.

Under the new program, voting residents in the Mountain View Homes district will be assigned to Precinct 6 (City Hall).

Those living outside the city to the north and northeast will also cast ballots at the City Hall, with the exception of those residing on the cemetery road who will continue to vote at Precinct 13 (High School).

Voters to the south and southeast will cast ballots at Precinct 1 polls in the Bagley Building and those on the southwest at Precinct 14 in the Metlen Hotel.

Precinct 7 Abolished

Also under the new project, Red Rock Precinct 7 will be abolished due to the Clark Canyon Dam which will eventually flood out that precinct's polling place at the Armstead School.

Voters remaining in that area will be reassigned to either Precinct 5 at Dell or Precinct 8 at Grant.

Some Local Changes

Some Dillon residents will also be affected under the redistribution plan, officials said.

Voters who formerly balloted at polling places outside of the precinct area in which they currently make their homes will be assigned to their residence precinct.

Will Be Notified

All voters facing reassignment will be notified by mail, County Clerk Evelyn Sage said.

Accompanying the notification will be a card which must be signed by the voter and returned to the county clerk's office.

The project is expected to be completed by February and a complete tabulation of polling places and number of voters will be published at that time.

"Let the People Be Heard"

Dillon Hunter Calls for Complete And True Accounting by State Fish and Game Department

Editor, Dillon
Tribune-Examiner
Dear Sir:

I am writing this in support of Mr. Schwartz' letter of December 13. Perhaps this should be entitled "Open Letter to the Fish and Game Service."

It is my understanding that the Fish and Game Department is running in the red and I've also been told they had to get a loan this year. If this is the case it is well understandable since each year it becomes increasingly evident that the Fish and Game Department is little more than a free-for-all.

Most of the other states around us have taken steps to regulate the out-of-state hunters so the residents may enjoy a few more years of sport—while our own Fish and Game is apparently trying to destroy it.

On tonight's news, the State of Wyoming advocated the live trapping of elk in the Park and denounced the atrocious slaughter of a year ago. Strange—throughout the slaughter and of late, I can't recall hearing anything from our so-called Fish and Game here in Montana.

I have what some may regard as a hair-brained proposal. Since this is a country of a "Government of the People, By the People and For the People" and since we all agree that anything belonging to the Government belongs to the people, therefore, does it not follow that such decisions like the Elk slaughter and the regulating of out-of-state hunters be put to the people?

Maybe I'm wrong, but I have talked to a good many people and not one has expressed anything even approaching satisfaction with the out-of-state hunter situation here in Montana.

Undoubtedly the first thing the Fish and Game Department will say is, "We're operating in the red now. If we put such decisions before the people it will cost entirely too much." All that would be required is a public, state-wide announcement outlining any proposal in detail; then sit back and let the people make their own decision in the form of letters. I personally think that instead of agencies of the Government putting all these controls on the people, it is time that we the people start putting a few curbs on the government.

I could name perhaps 20 people here in Dillon who agree with me that if the Fish and Game is allowed to continue its irresponsible operations, then we as citizens are morally within our rights to go get game whenever it comes handy. With a little effort I could dig up a couple hundred or more who feel the same way.

If anyone, especially the Fish and Game Department, thinks I'm all wet, then let this be a direct challenge to them. Put before the public, a COMPLETE and TRUE accounting of their activities and financing—and in the financial end, WHY?

W. L. STEWART
Dillon, Montana

P. S. Even the Fish and Game Department will agree, a little more public enlightenment and effort to assist the people would be of an advantage.
