

Western Lists Schedule for Adult Classes

The Adult Education Division of Western Montana College announces the following schedule of evening classes at the college for Winter Quarter.

On Monday evenings, beginning January 7 in Room 304, Dr. Joseph J. S. Feathers will present Education 570, Philosophy of Education for 3 credits at 7 p.m. This will be an advanced course dealing with the various philosophies of education including study of the great leaders and important movements in the development of modern education.

Professor Blanche McManus will present English 476, Literature of the Victorian Period, on Tuesday evenings beginning January 8 in Room 105 at 7 p.m. This course will be for 3 credits and it will be a consideration of the poetry and prose of the major Victorian writers.

Wednesday evenings, a graduate course will be offered by the Art Department. Professor Mary B. Emerick, head of the department, will offer Art 591 Seminar for 2 credits at 7 p.m. beginning Wednesday, Jan. 9 in Room 311.

On Thursday evenings, Professor Lawrence A. Walker will present Education 540, The Teacher and Curriculum Construction, for 3 credits in Room 111, beginning January 10 at 7 p.m. This will deal with teacher initiative in curriculum change, social, economic and political changes affecting the curriculum, educational purposes and subject matter selection.

Adult Education classes are offered for $8.00 per credit. Registrants are asked to pay their fees at the first meeting of the class if possible and they must be paid by the third meeting.

Further information on the program may be obtained from John Cumming, Director of Adult Education at the College, phone 683-2351, Ext. 56.

Firemen Subdue Serious Threat at Jones Ranch

Firemen were called Friday evening to the J. Lester Jones ranch on East Kentucky street when fire was discovered in the walls and upstairs of the ranch home.

The threat was subdued following one-hour efforts of the firemen, Chief Al Simon said, but considerable damage was reported in the three upper rooms. Some personal belongings were also lost when the fire got into a clothes closet.

Source of the fire was not determined.

B & M Association To Hold Annual Meet Wednesday

The recently-organized B & M Marketing Association will hold its first annual meeting Wednesday, Jan. 9, in the high school Vo-Ag building here, beginning at 8 p.m., with President Ralph Duffner of Sheridan presiding.

The organization's 1963 program will be planned and proposed amendments to the constitution discussed and voted upon.

The B & M Marketing Association was established to serve farmers and ranchers in Beaverhead, Madison and adjoining counties. All interested residents of these areas are invited and urged to attend the Wednesday meet.

Richard Wenger returned Sunday to Carroll College where he is a student after visiting at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jules Wenger. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wenger and family from Columbia Falls.

The new year's first quarterly Red Cross blood drawing will be held Tuesday in the Dillon Elks Hall from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Mrs. Darlene Poundstone, county blood chairman, said today, with the quota set at 60 pints.

Co-sponsoring the drawing will be the Beaverhead County Farm Bureau, whose members will direct the recruiting of rural area donors.

A free luncheon for all donors will be prepared and served by the Bureau's women, President J. E. Selway and Women's Chairman Ann Hirschy have announced.

Last Drawing Short

The county fell far short of its quota in the last drawing, Mrs. Poundstone noted, and with the Farm Bureau's assistance it is hoped to exceed the 60-pint goal Tuesday and offset the past deficit in this all-important program.

"We're urgently soliciting all county residents—both city and rural—to donate a pint of blood Tuesday," Mrs. Poundstone stressed. "The vital necessity of this program to all Beaverhead people cannot be over-estimated. Its future depends on your response."

Dillon doctors and nurses will be present to assist the Bureau members with the drawing.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Poses Dangerous Threat

By Merle M. Lyda

Carbon monoxide poisoning is a winter hazard that must be guarded against.

One of the most common causes of monoxide poisoning is warming up a car or tractor inside a building. When an engine must be warmed up, the only safe way is to open the doors of the building, or better yet back the machine outside for the warmup.

Carbon monoxide gas gives no warning since it cannot be seen or felt. Nevertheless, it is lethal. It first makes the victim drowsy, then unconscious and death will result if the stricken person does not get fresh air.

Monoxide poisoning may also occur when people sit in a parked car with the engine running and the windows closed, especially if the car has a defective exhaust system.

Carbon monoxide may also be produced by stoves or furnaces stoked for the night and too sharply damped. It's a good precaution to be sure the home has plenty of air circulation at night to prevent asphyxiation.

Centennial Decals on Sale by Dillon Jaycees

Colorful decals promoting the 1964 Montana Centennial Celebration are now on sale by the Dillon Jaycees, sale chairman Jim Flynn announced today.

The decals are available in either 25-cent or one-dollar sizes and receipts are earmarked for support of the centennial's many projects.

New Postage Rates Go in Effect Today

Postmaster Harry Andrus reminds residents to make sure they place the proper postage on their letters beginning today, when the new postage rate goes into effect.

Postage rates for first class letters will increase from 4 cents to 5 cents an ounce. Air mail letters will cost 8 cents an ounce instead of 7.

First class post cards will require 4 cents instead of 3, and air mail cards will go from 5 to 6 cents.

Andrus reminder wasn't all on the black side. He said the Post Office Department has dropped the extra charge of 1 cent for stamp booklets containing the 5-cent and 8-cent denominations. The booklets will be sold at their face values of $1 and $2, respectively.

In addition, the booklets will contain a handy postage chart on the inside cover.

Andrus warned that insufficient postage will be penalized by collection from the addressee or by returning the letter to the sender. He advised against risking such delays.

By the way! Do you still date your checks 1962?
