WAR FLASHES

PRESIDENT PREPARES BROADCAST ADDRESS

HYDE PARK—President Roosevelt will meet either this evening or tomorrow with his three chief defense aids, Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Navy Knox in what was termed "a most important conference." It is understood the President will revise his talk in the light of recent happenings to American shipping since he has requested an additional ten minutes or a total of 25 minutes for his radio address Thursday night which will be heard in the mountain states at 7 p. m.

WASHINGTON HAS JITTERS OVER SINKINGS

WASHINGTON—The nation's capital had the war jitters last night following receipt of word of the third attack on an American-operated ship within a week. In addition to the destroyer Greer that was fired on by a German U-boat, it was learned that the Danish freighter, S. S. Sessa, under Panamanian registry but American-operated, had been torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic southwest of Iceland on Aug. 17 with a loss of 24 persons, including one American. Steele Seafarer, an American freighter, was the other victim, going to the bottom in the Red Sea Sept. 5 after being bombed by an unidentified plane.

LEND-LEASE AID ONLY FOR WAR PURPOSES

WASHINGTON—The state department made public today a statement by Anthony Eden that all materials received under the lend-lease act have been used exclusively for war purposes and denied any goods were diverted to private channels. He declared the British government is enforcing strict regulations to prohibit any profiteering on lend-lease materials.

HITLER FACES WINTER CAMPAIGN IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW—With the Red Army holding firm the Dnieper river line, the Germans pedaling backward in the Smolensk area and Leningrad in the midst of a "do or die" defense, it appears more likely every day that Hitler will be forced into a winter campaign in Russia. His immediate objective appears to be Leningrad which he wants taken before snow flies. Even if he is successful in this venture, military authorities doubt that the Germans will be able to reach Kiev or Moscow during the winter because the Nazis are not trained in winter warfare.

'World's Deadliest Flying Weapon' Takes to the Air

Pictured here flying over Puget Sound is the new improved Boeing B-17-E, latest version of the "Flying Fortress," termed by aviation experts the "world's deadliest flying weapon." Six tons heavier and five feet longer than previous models, it is the forerunner of hundreds of identical ships which will see service in the present war.
